Craig Munro is the Master Craftsman and Director of Wallace Bagpipes, Scotland.

He started learning the chanter at the age of 8 through the Linwood Caledonia Pipe Band under tuition from Gordon Lawrie before joining the Renfrew District Association (latterly Paisley Pipe Band) at the age of 10 under Pipe Major Colin Johnstone where he won various RSPBA Major Championship titles in Novice Juvenile and Juvenile until joining the Shotts & Dykehead Caledonia Pipe Band Under Pipe Major Robert Mathieson at the age of 15. He has played at the top of grade 1 for 20 years with the last 10 years as a member of the St Laurence O'Toole Pipe Band where he currently runs their Scottish branch of the bands pipe corp. As well as his commitment to St Laurence O'Toole, Craig is in demand as a guest player and mentor for bands worldwide where he has also won Championships in Europe, Australia, South Africa and North America.

He is in high demand worldwide for his teaching and adjudication services such as Europe, North America and South America. His Understand & Appreciate Your Bagpipes lecture which takes the audience on the journey of an African Blackwood seed through the plantation and harvesting process in Tanzania then a virtual tour of his factory is the highlight of any workshop! He is also an approved IPBA Adjudicator as well as an SQA Assessor for the National Piping Centre.

Out with the competing circuit, Craig is also a member of the Red Hot Chilli Pipers touring the world and performing to crowds as large as 60,000 at venues including the SECC Hydro and BT Murrayfield Stadium. As a keen golfer, his favourite Chilli Pipers gig is performing at the 2014 Ryder Cup in Gleneagles, Scotland. He has featured on the Disney Pixar "Brave" soundtrack as well as the DreamWorks "How To Train Your Dragon 2 & 3" soundtrack.

What Pipers say about Wallace

"The overall workmanship and finish as well as the tonal quality would give me no hesitation in recommending the Wallace bagpipe to any band or professional piper."

Pipe Major Robert Mathieson

"In the Red Hot Chilli Pipers we need instruments that can cope with the stress of being on the road and touring all over the world. They have to be stable whether we are playing on a freezing cold stage in Inverness or in the blistering heat of Saudi Arabia. Wallace Bagpipes have definitely stood up to our demands...And more."

Willie Armstrong, Red Hot Chilli Pipers & Scottish Power Pipe Band (Former Member)

"I currently have a very old set of pipes which are a very good set of drones but the sound I'm getting out of my new Wallace Bagpipes is right up there too which is very impressive for a set of pipes that are less than a year old! Most of the school band are playing Wallace Bagpipes and I've been getting great comments from the judges about our drone sound."

Pipe Major Lee Moore, Preston Lodge High School Pipe Band

"I have played and dealt with just about every bagpipe manufacturer out there and I have never come across the professionalism I have experienced with Wallace bagpipes. Onstage and in the studio with Gaelic Storm I need a bagpipe that sounds great, looks great, stays in tune and is reliable. Wallace bagpipes do all of this and more. I recommend them to both my peers and students for a sound investment."

Peter Purvis, Gaelic Storm, bagpipelesson.com

"My Wallace Bagpipes have a staying in tune power that very few other makes have to offer, I knew right then that I had a fantastic set of pipes under my arm!"

Scott Wallace, Field Marshall Montgomery Pipe Band
